Saco Valley United Parish

Ministering to Lovell, Fryburg Harbor, North, West and Center Fryburg, Stow, Union Hill and Toll Bridge

Everybody is busy with preparations for the Third Annual Winter Carnival to be held at North Fryburg, Wednesday, Valentine's Day. The ladies of the United Parish are arranging for wonderful meals that day, with oyster stew at lunch time. Some very fine rehearsals for the minstrel show are being held each week, and they say that the end men's jokes will be a scream. Arrangements have been made to have moving pictures for the little before supper. Last, but not least, Burt Webb's committee are only waiting for the day before the 14th to measure off the courses and fix up the obstacles for a great day in the snow.

It seemed like old times to be at the Ladies' Aid supper at the Harbor, last Friday. A fine number sat down to a great feast of home-cooked food. Then there was a sing-song following which was very enjoyable. If possible, we hope to make transportation arrangements for groups from every community for next Saturday's practice.

The Flowers will hold their all-parish supper meeting at the Harbor vestry, Friday evening. The boys will serve supper to themselves and a few guests. "Pirate Pete" is to be the guest of honor, and will bring along his specimens of minerals and gems for a chat about them to the boys. There will be the regular business and study period, and an hour or so of games and contests.

Because of the small attendance on account of the cold weather, it was decided not to show the pictures at West Fryburg, last Sunday afternoon, but to have them presented at a Community Get-Together in the schoolhouse, Wednesday evening.

In the crowd were many people from Portland, South Fryburg, Conway, Lovell and Fryburg, possibly other towns were represented, but overlooked by the observer. The first prize for ladies was won by Mrs. Ruth Marshall, another young lady, Miss Eaton from Conway, had the same number of points and the young ladies had to draw to determine the winner. Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

"What's the matter with us? Is it bigotry and intolerance, greed for pelf, or blind stupidity?"

An ad appears in this issue for four men to work on the rate of $25.00 per week. See ad under head of "Wanted."

Sent in: "Wanted, some one at the Wearies to whalloo, beat and lambaste Elgie Greenleaf at cribbage. Apply at once."

Maurice Knightly showed us a large branch of pussy willows well filled out, which he found up the hill on Pleasant street the third of February.

In this issue you will find an announcement of Mrs. Hazel E. Conary as a candidate for the office of Town Treasurer and Tax Collector of Norway. See ad.

F. W. Sanborn: "Nineteen different jack knives have lost their charm. Town report printing is here. I'm going into Executive Session for at least a month."

Ned F. Truman has placed an ad in this issue announcing that he will be a candidate for Road Commissioner in the village district at the March town meeting. See ad.

Monday, Feb. 2. Candlemas Day, dawned snowy, clearing by mid-afternoon. A young lady from a near-by town, on being asked if she ever read the Norway Advertiser, replied, "No; I have read it a few times, but knew all there was in it before."

The Advertiser is not always a welcome visitor. A young lady from a near-by town, on being asked if she ever read the Norway Advertiser, replied, "No; I have read it a few times, but knew all there was in it before."

The T. S. Pencil Co., of New York continues to lambaste and annoy. They sent "statement" which appears to show we owe them $4.00, which is not so. We owe them nothing. Why the postal department will permit such abuse we know not.

We have been printing quarter sheet posters for an auction to be held Saturday, Feb. 28, at the residence of the late Charles A. Frost, Main street, Norway at 1 o'clock. L. J. McInerney will be auctioneer. Charles S. McInerney of East Waterford is the executor of the estate.

Tuesday morning was cold and that is not idle talk. Lowest below zero reading are reported as follows: Paris Hill, 2; South Paris village, 31; Norway village, 26; Bolster's Mills, 35, and Oxford 26. Many water pipes suffered and the electric thawing machine was in use for a time.

A little girl called Wednesday and said, "There is a pipe I found Wednesday at the corner of Paris and West Streets. Thought I'd bring it here and you might find the owner. I know my g-a-p-p-a loves his pipe and would hate to lose it and perhaps someone loves this one, but I don't want my name put in the paper about it."

Harry E. Lovejoy tells a story of school days before truant officers were born. In his school was a boy generally at the foot of the class, who rather go fishing than study. After the boy was absent three days, the teacher notified the father, who agreed to settle the matter once and for all time. There was a story in the view. The truant gave the excuse that the class was so far behind him he stayed out so they might catch up. And he got away with it.

The woodchuck had a varied career on Candlemas Day, if he crawled from his hole according to schedule. Snow squalls opened the day and continued until the snow burst through at p. m., and set in a blaze of glory. Weather prophets may say the ground hog came out, capered around for a while, then his shadow seen him home. We should expect weeks of mild weather, followed by a cold spell for a backward spring, were the old notions true.

Don Seitz says: "Business seems to be picking up slightly, though Lord & Thomas laid off fifty men last week in their New York office, having lost a two million dollar account. The retail stores in town appear about as crowded as ever and the streets are well impassable with crowds of both people and autos. The motion picture concerns report increased earnings and the show houses are packed. Outside of the drouth areas there is small complaint from the farmers who have been placed at a perpetual disadvantage anyway. The country has accumulated more wealth than it can pay dividends on. The crowd can't both pay profits and then compound them. It isn't in the animal."

Striking a responsive chord in the make-up of C. D. Waters, of Montpellier, Vt. he writes, viz:

"In the last 'Advertiser' I read the complaint of two men in the 'Wearies' relating to listening to the 'Radio' and trying to play cards at the same time."

"You may tell that man, whoever he is, that I have had a nice, for a long time that the 'Wearies' was a pretty good concern to belong to and that when I got around to apply for membership, I shall come straight to him to endorse my application."

"You may say to him that I will come to his house and play whist with himself and his good wife—or I will discuss Holy Writ with his family—or I will play 'Draw Me a Wife' with him but I want the privilege, when necessary requires, of cussing out loud and getting a hearing."

Sent in: "Yes, sir, prosperity has at last rounded the more or less mythical corner. One local man announces that two batches of candy were made in his kitchen during the past month, while none were made before; the sugar surplus, which has hung gloomily for a long while has thus received a decided impetus. The recovery of copper is more marked, however; George Howe recently made a very good teapot handle by using copper wire while Keith Bradbury has cleaned his pipe out with a wire of red metal. Copper men have renewed faith in the future. The unemployment problem has also been solved; a man was recently seen shoveling snow off Arthur Hardman's roof. When Jimmy Steward announced the arrival of his license plates, gas and oil men all over the country knew that the tide had turned. The rubber industry also expects increased business as a result. Just one thing mars the otherwise perfect picture; the man who had his shoes tapped recently, helped the leather business considerably, but put the shoe business on the bum for some little time. Since all the worthy gentlemen above, except one, have done their level best to bring prosperity back here's a way for you to help; get out your pencil and paper and figure up the beneficial and far-reaching effects of your noble deeds, and when paper mills and pencil manufacturers announce an increase in business you can say, 'I did that.' Oh, boy, it won't be long now!"

Walter K. Hamlin of South Waterford, pioneer maker of butter—best butter for four townships, and for that matter, in the state, was a recent caller. He paid for his copy of the Norway Advertiser for about the fiftieth time, also left orders for job printing. Walter was accompanied by his son, Albert W. Hamlin, who helps out in carrying on the business established by his father.

Frank E. Mitchell, the sage of Alton Bay, N. H., says in the News and Critic: "Just now the citizens of the United States are bedeviled by the problems of unemployment, political strife, prohibition, over-taxation, increasing cost of government, traffic congestion, automobile accidents, and other matters of both national and international importance."

"Meanwhile Congress is discussing drouth relief, aid for Indians, pensions for World War participants, increase or curtailment of naval strength, and other questions that confuse and perplex us. Why all this uncertainty and alarm? Why do our wise men of business and politics spend so much time on theories instead of getting down to facts? Why map out a logical course and then pursue a crooked one?"

"On the night of November 20, 1887, a fire broke out in the winter quarters of Barnum & Bailey at Bridgeport, Conn. Many valuable animals and much property was destroyed. Loss, a quarter of a million. Insurance, small. Many people said it was the end of the enterprise."

"Mr. Barnum, asleep at the Murray Hill Hotel in New York, was aroused and found the disaster. He said, 'but apparent evils are often blessings in disguise.' With that, related Mrs. Barnum, he rolled back into his comfortable position and in less than three minutes was fast asleep."

"The next morning Mr. Barnum tackled his problem and eleven days after the disaster Barnum and Bailey were the owners of a much finer menagerie than the one they had lost."

"If two individuals, without great resources, can thus quickly recoup their loss and go forward to greater things, a nation with the latent power of the United States of America should be able to emerge from its difficulties and proceed to its glory."

no ambition for political honors. He is the real manager of the affairs of the Trust Company since Tom has gone into political life, and has fallen into his father's ways, and they now work together admirably. The four families have two summer cottages near the upper pond on the tract obtained from the state, where they spend the heated season of the year. Fishing is still good there, and hunting pretty fair up among the high hills. The lot is still a great source of income in its immense pine, spruce and hardwood growth, and will remain so for many years to come.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hadley are blessed with their daughter, Bessie, who has finished her English and musical education and is engaged to Robert Morton, and they will be married when he is admitted to practice law and is ready to settle down for good at Lakewood. They will make their home with her parents.

Luther Elliott married Miss Ada Turner and they are living very happily together, owing largely to her keeping her self attractive and being able to make him feel that there is no other woman quite her equal. He is now the proprietor of the readymade clothing store, and her knowledge of financial matters is so extensive that she still retains her position in the bank, with an increase of salary.

Clarence Sidney married Miss Annie White. He keeps his clerkship in a store and organist at the Unitarian church, while his wife is much employed at the Bentons', where her services could not well be dispensed with. She is quite able to check any of Sidney's unnecessary thumping on the piano.

Rev. Allen Raymond is engaged to be married to Miss Josephine Harris, the efficient clerk in the Trust Company's office. Their honeymoon will be spent abroad during the summer vacation in Switzerland.

Dick Scott is fast rising to prominence as a business man and is designated for legislative honors. He is engaged to Miss Cora Gardner.

Samuel married Mrs. Hannah Gordon. Her cookery—particularly the doughnuts, it is said—was the moving cause. They are a happy pair. He still hunts and fishes in the "northern country."

Jim has a position in the express office. He is engaged to the little beauty, Miss Alice Marian Weston.

Victor Whiting is rapidly acquiring fame as a story writer. He is soon to be married to that smart and charming young lady, Miss Mary Jones Randolph. They are to go around the world after that happy event and may cross the Atlantic in an airplane.

DISTRESSING cold in chest or throat—that so often leads to something serious—generally responds to good old MUSTEROLE with the first application. Should be more effective if used once every hour for five hours.

This famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. Musteroles acts because it is a scientific "counter-irritant"—not just a salve—it penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses. Keep Musteroles handy—jars and tubes. To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.
